Dear Mr. Cain:

Re: Access Request #212199

I am responding to your access request under the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (the Act) for all documents related to a price quote increase from 108.28 to 123.53 for item #240184, Calvados du Pays d'Auge."

A search of the files in our Sales and Marketing Division, specifically the Category Management, Brown Spirits department, was conducted and six responsive records were found. Access in full has been granted. Enclosed please find a copy of the responsive records.

In addition, I would like to provide you with some background information regarding this product's lifecycle. First of all, I would like to draw your attention to the fact that the figures quoted in your original request were in Euros and not in Canadian dollars. As you will see from record #1, the original product application listed the product at a retail price of $50.75. This retail price is in line with competitive product(s) in the category. The product was purchased as a one-time seasonal item, and 180 cases (12 pack) were ordered. The product has been delisted as of January 20, 2012. As of today's date, there is no stock of this item in our warehouses, and there are 149 bottles available in our stores

As I previously advised when processing your earlier access request, quote changes often result from revisions to freight rates, changes in currency exchange rates or supplier errors in calculating the quote necessary to produce the agreed to retail price. The records provided show an instance of this where a quote was increased, but there are also frequent instances of decreases as well.

Record #5 shows the calculation of the revised quote. This record indicates the original forecasted quote (108.2800 Euros) and calculates the quote necessary to reach the agreed to retail price of $50.75 per bottle (123.53 Euros). This is done by applying the LCBO's fixed mark-up structure applicable to Calvados (a type of brandy) and taking into account relevant import duties and freight costs.

Under its mandate, LCBO is expected to reach a balance between providing good products that deliver value with pricing that promotes social responsibility and also generates revenue for the government. Successive governments have endorsed the current pricing system for maintaining this balance. The current system of using a fixed markup structure for pricing also provides certainty and transparency for suppliers as they know exactly how their products will be priced and that the same rules will be applied to all.

As noted in the Auditor General's report, recent surveys conducted by the Canadian Association of Liquor Jurisdictions (CALJ) show Ontario prices for beverage alcohol are the lowest of all Canadian provinces and territories.

In his December 2011 report on LCBO Procurement of New Beverage Alcohol Products, the Auditor General recommended that the LCBO, in consultation with the Ministry of Finance, conduct a trial or pilot of a new pricing policy using variable mark-ups. This would be a significant policy change with potential costs and benefits. LCBO has raised this recommendation with the Ministry of Finance.

Please be advised that any decision made under the Act can be appealed to the Information and Privacy Commissioner. Under section 50 (2) of the Act, an appeal must be filed with the Commissioner's office within thirty days of the notice of decision. The Commissioner's office is located at 2 Bloor Street East, Suite 1400, Toronto, Ontario, M4W 1A8. You should be aware that there is a $25.00 appeal fee. Any questions about the appeal fee should be directed to the Information and Privacy Commissioner's office. Their phone number is (416) 326-3333.

If you have any questions regarding your request, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Yours truly,

Mona Wong
